

Preparing Global Citizens and Respecting Diversity

CREATE a sketch of a global issue. Show how others from across the globe are caring for or doing something that also matters to you. What needs do humans have that are universal? What are some unique ways we meet those needs and celebrate diversity?

PRESENT your sketch and explain the global issue. Did you address access to clean water, enough nutritious food, preparing children for the future, and living without fear? How are the issues similar to and different from those that others who live across the globe are facing?

RESPOND to others' global issues and learn more about what inspired their sketches. Find patterns, similarities, and differences.

CONNECT the discussion to what you want children to learn about the world. How can students develop respect for diverse points of view, cultural experiences, and traditions that are followed in your local communities and across the globe?
